

BIKE FRIENDLY NEW YORK

A business certification program to promote bicycle tourism along the Erie Canalway Trail and across New York State

About Bike Friendly New York

Bike Friendly New York (BFNY) is a bicycle friendly certification program that launched in 2017 and currently has over 150 businesses. Administered by Parks & Trails New York (PTNY) and the New York State Canal Corporation, BFNY aims to recognize and promote businesses that provide special accommodations for bicyclists. A wide range of businesses can apply for bike-friendly certification, including restaurants and bars, lodging, shops, and museums. BFNY was conceived with businesses located along the statewide Erie Canalway Trail (ECT) in mind; however, eligible businesses across New York may apply and be certified.

Bicyclists Bring Business

Bicycling is the second most popular outdoor activity in the country, and an increasing number of people are seeking out new places to ride, whether for an afternoon or a week-long vacation. Bike tourists need food and a place to stay, and they spend money on gas and souvenirs. They are looking to experience the places they visit, in a real way.

What is a Bike Friendly Business?

Bike friendliness is not a “yes or no” quality, and the steps that businesses take to cater to cyclists vary. Above all, bike friendly businesses value cyclists as customers. Therefore, they strive to meet the unique needs of cyclists. Beyond the basics, there is a wide range of ways that businesses can serve cyclists. The BFNY program reflects this range with its flexible eligibility requirements and suggested amenities.

BFNY Goals

- Enhance the level of service for touring and other cyclists
- Educate business owners on the cycling market, local and regional bike routes, and trail networks
- Increase awareness of the economic impact of cycling in New York
- Create new opportunities for data gathering and economic impact determination
- Build excitement around cycling in New York State
